Moines. The men are becoming violent in their complaints over the forced march across the country, and Kelly's authority will be severely tested if transportation is not secured at the State capital. Kelly ex-pects to reach Des Moines Friday, but his arrival there will probably be delayed until

The start from Avoca was made about o'clock this morning. The populace turned out en masse to bid the commonwealers good-bye. The wagons that had brought the men from Neola returned last niht, and to-day sixty-three fresh teams, furnished by the farmers in the adjacent county, were driven into camp at Avoca and loaded with commonwealers. The vehicles could hold only half the men, and every five miles along the road shifts were made to allow all the men to take advantage of the transportation. As the army came down the steep hill and marched into Walnut it was received with the same cordial welcome which has characterized the receptions since it left Council Bluffs. The town officials bade Kelly welcome, and the townspeople furnished plenty of pro-visions. The stop here was brief, and the army was soon on its way for Atlantic. Another mutiny broke out to-day. Col. Spead, whose popularity with the men is as great as that of the commander, positively refused to obey orders on to-day's march, and it was apparent that any at-tempt to discipline him would cause a split in the army. Spead has been inclined to be unruly ever since Colonel Baker's discharge, and has secretly sympathized with the ex-colonel. As the army neared Walnut. Kelly ordered Spead to march with the commissary wagons and look after them. Spead promptly replied that he was doing all he would, and would not follow the commander's instructions. A decidedly hot exchange of compliments between the two men followed, and for a time a general row was minent, as the Sacramento men promptly took sides with Spead, while the Call-fornia division favored Kelley. The latter finally turned away, with the remark that he would settle the matter later. When the men reached Walnut they were in a state of great excitement, and predicted Berious trouble before night. A short distance beyond Walnut the army haited to discuss the impending trouble. Spead attempted to make a speech, and immediately a wild scene ensued. Cries of "Spead" mingled with shouts for Kelly. The men formed opposite bodies, and a fist fight seemed imminent. For fifteen or twenty minutes the scene continued. Spead continued trying to speak amid cheers from his followers and howls and threats from Kelly's men. Stones were gathered and clubs were waved, while the crowds from Walnut retired to a safe distance in expectation of a conflict. At last Kelly limbed upon a wagon and began a speech Men ran from all directions, shouting "Kelly," and soon over half the army had gathered about him. He talked quietly and dispassionately, attempting to quell the angry mob. He informed them that a court-martial had been held, and that the aptains had by a vote of 2 to 3 reduced Spead to the ranks. "We are going on to Washington," he shouted, "and I believe we will go together." The men cheered veciferously, and Kelly ordered them to dinner. This quieted them down, and the fight was for a time at least averted. The entire trouble is the result of jealousy between the San Francisco and Sacramento divisions, to the latter of which Spead be longs. The mob quieted down during the afternoon, but many of the Sacramento people announced their intention to split at Atlantic and follow Spead to Washington.

Two Generals and Two Divisions. ATLANTIC, Ia., April 24.-Kelly's industrial army reached Atlantic at 6 o'clock tonight with Colonel Speed and his followers in the ranks. The day has been an eventful one, Speed having been deposed and a separation of the Sacramento and San Francisco divisions having been effected during the march with a narrowly averted internal war. Speed had refused to obey orders issued by Kelly and was promptly court-martialed and reduced to the ranks. The Sacramento division at once declared that it would desert Kelly and follow Speed and the temporary camp just east of Butler was soon a scene of wild disorder About three hundred declared for Speed and the men argued their differences with much profanity and a liberal show of clubs and stones. A fight was averted, however, Kelly's coolness. Before they reache Atlantic the Sacramento division elected Speed general, and to-night the men de-ciare they will follow no one but Speed, denounce Kelly as having appropri ated to his own use the army's funds, and aver that they will obey his orders no lorger. Speed has accepted the leadership, but says he will march to Washington with Kelly, but not under his guidance. Henceforth, says Speed, there will be two armies, absolutely distinct, but sharing provisions and glory. Kelly hopes for a econciliation. He said to an Associated Press reporter to-night that he can and will account publicly for all funds he has received, and denied that he has ever been given more than $1,000. The two armies will remain in Atlantic until Thursday.

RANDALL'S ARMY. Seven Hundred Marchers Enlist in the Chicago Commonweal. CHICAGO, April 24.-Randall's commonis having a boom. To-day recruits came in faster than they could be enlisted. Pages were filled with the names. An important ruling has been made by Chairman Vincent. He decided that no one unable to speak the English language would be enlisted among the soldiers of the Chicago army. Many applications were made by Poles and Swedes, but all who could not answer the questions put to them were not enrolled. At a meeting of the commonweal committee this afternoon a communication was received from the owners of Kuhne's Park, a large pleasure resort on the outskirts of the city, offering the park for a camping place until the army is ready to march. The offer was not accepted, as the army is not ready to camp out just at present. The chairman of the finance committee reported: "Ther: he $254.50 in the tree mry when we ke the $250 promised to us." The women's auxiliary has issued a call for provisions and has opened a room where they will be received. Both the women and the general meeting of the army passed resolutions condemning the resolution passed by the City Council calling on the chief of police to prevent Kelly's army from entering Chicago. On this matter Mayor Hopkins said to-day: "The Council cannot give such orders to the chief of police. The resolution is but an expression of opinion of the aldermen. do not say that course should not be pur sued or that it will not be followed. Neither do I say it will. probably be made by Sunday.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BRAZIL, Ind., April 24.-A large crowd thronged the depot platform this evening to hall the arrival of General Frye and his commonwealers. An advance agent arrived in the city this afternoon and rented the opera house for General Frye to speak in. The commander arrived in due time, but his special boxcar of followers was delayed for several hours. The industrial army was courteously received and well fed, as Mayor McCullough had Issued orders calling on the citizens to care for the weary travelers. The army has no tents, consequently the men were forced to sleep in the car or seek empty houses. It was generally understood that the army carried a tent, consequently no provisions were made for lodging the soldiers. The army is composed of men of all trades. who claim they will accept employment offered to them. General Frye's address was listened to by a good-sized audience this evening. The army will leave for Indianapolis in the morning and not camp here for three days, as was first reported,

How They Left Terre Haute.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 24.-General Frye's army left town this afternoon on a Vandalia freight train. Frye chartered a car to Brazil for his wagons and horses, and the 150 men climbed on the train as it started away. Frye has hopes of recruiting five hundred miners at Brazil. He obtained some money and says from now on he will conduct his enterprise on business principles by buying a big tent and charging spectators an admission fee at towns along the route to Washington.

COXEY HOME RESERVE.

First Regiment Organized by Populists at Denver.

DENVER, Col., April 24.-The First Regiment of the Coxey home reserve was formally organized at Lincoln Park this afternoon. There was present about one thousand men and one hundred women, and it is stated that this number have already signed the roll, which is expected to reach two thousand within the next few days. Speech-lists and labor leaders, who scored federal and State officials for opposing the march of the commonweal armies. Resolutions were adopted reciting the deplorable condition of the unemployed of the country, declaring that the industrialists are law-abiding citizens, and that in their attempt to present their petition to Congress they were exercising a right possessed by every citi-zen. F. H. Hegwer was chosen commander in chief and J. L. Crank adjutant general. A general order, addressed to all lawabiding and patriotic citizens of the United States of America, was issued to-night. It reads: "You are requested to proceed without delay to the organization of a Coxey home reserve to apprise the Congress of the United States and others groping in darkness that millions remain behind who are bidding them hall and godspeed."

Probably a Mythical Army. CHICAGO, April 24.-A sensational story was printed here to-day to the effect that General Sullivan had made arrangements with the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for transporting 5,000 iron molders in box cars to Washington, and that they proposed to leave the city on Tuesday. Baltimore & Ohio officials, both of the passenger and freight departments, deny that there is any truth in the story so far as their road is concerned. They said they had not even been consulted in regard to the matter. The city directory does not contain the name of E. J. Gray, an ice dealer who was said to have placed his building at the temporary service of the army.

A Mysterious Band.

DELAWARE, O., April 24 .- A crowd of idle workmen, numbering thirty, assembled with walking clubs and banners in a cut on the Hocking Valley road, north of this city, last night, and, by sending four of the number to this city for provisions, created a stir among the citizens. The officers were notified, but before the men could be visited the messengers hastily preceded them, and they took the first south-bound outgoing freight train. It is believed that they are followers of Coxey, and will join the Galvin contingent at Columbus.

A Kansas City Army Formed. KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 24.-A Kansas

City commonweal army is being formed here. Charles L. Johnson, head waiter in a prominent restaurant, is to be the commander-in-chief, and when the enrollment of "sodiers" reaches the 300 mark the march toward Washington is to be taken up. Already nearly a third of that number have signified a willingness to join the move-ment, and a full complement is expected to materialize within a short time.

Another San Francisco Army. commonwealers started out of the city. Citizens have been providing them with food and the leader, Colonel Inman, now has nearly $200 in cash. Employed mechanics have called a public meeting to consider the matter of raising sufficient funds to pay the army's fare to Ogden.

Vaccination Commended. CINCINNATI, O., April 24.-The State Board of Health, at its meeting here to day, suggested to the Cincinnati Board of Health to quarantine against smallpox in Chicago, where they said it was epidemic. They also, through Dr. Probst, their secre-tary, commended the vaccination of commonwealers in Indiana, and recommended that this be done in every State Father Corbett, of Palmyra, Neb., Disregards a Court Injunction.

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., April 24.-Father Corbett, the Palmyra priest who has called down upon his head the enmity of Bishop Bonacum, has, by his actions of Sunday last, most likely gotten himself into serious trouble. Bishop Bonacum came to this city on Friday last, and appearing before District Judge Chapman had an injunction issued restraining Father Corbett from entering or holding services in the Catholic churches at Douglass and Palmyra, Otoe county, and Elmwood, Cass county. This was to head off Father Corbett from holding services at Palmyra on Sunday, but notwithstanding the fact that he was served with a copy of Judge Chapman's order by sheriff nuberle, of Otoe county, the priest took possession of the church and held the customary services. This roused the ire of the Bishop, and to-day the latter came from Lincoln and entered a formal protest before the judge. The upshot of the affair was that a warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Sheriff Elkenbary, calling for Father Corbett's arrest. The sheriff left for Palmyra this afternoon, and by to-morrow the priest will have been brought to this city and given the opportunity to show cause why he should not be held for contempt in disobeying the court's injunction. The hearing nises to be one of unusual interest.

END OF A CELEBRATED CASE.

Florence Baldwin Finally Awarded the Blythe Millions "for Keeps."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.-The State Supreme Court to-day handed down ten decisions in the Blythe case, all of which are in favor of Florence Blythe. Five decisions are upon appeals from denials for new trials. The other five decisions bear on eleven other appeals in the case. This settles the celebrated case and gives the Blythe millions to Florence Blythe Hickley, the daughter of Thomas H. Baldwin. The estate is valued at fully $4,000,000 and was awarded to Florence, the illegitimate daughter of Thomas H. Blythe, by the Probate Court. There were nearly a hundred other claimants, and many of them appealed from the decision of the lower court.

Auction Sale of Flannels. NEW YORK, April 24.-The largest auction sale of fiannels since May, 1890, took place to-day. The buyers were many, but the prices brought at the morning sale, which began at 10:30, were considered low. The sale consisted of 2,900 packages of flannels and repellants, on account of Deering. Millikin & Co., and 1,000 packages of printed flannels on account of Phillips & Moyer. The prices were: The % yard width, Tyral cream white flannels, 94 to 16%c per yard; full width cream white. 34 yard width Domet, 8% to 812c. Among the buyers were: B. Failure of an Oklahoma Bank. ENID, O. T., April 24.-The Merchants' Bank, of this place, did not open this morning, and all kinds of exciting stories were at once set affoat. A rush was made for the bank, but it was barred. About fifty men made a race for North Enid to catch the train before it went south. When they arrived the train had gone, with cashier Charles Bright. The failure is for about $20,000, and the merchants are principally the losers. The depositors made threats on President Edward L. Dunn, but nothing has been done. I. D. Conkling, of this place, was appointed receiver early this morning.

Three Hundred Go Into Camp at Frederick, Md., for Two Days.

Preparations at Washington-Additions to the Treasury Arsenal-Progress of the New Englanders.

FREDERICK, Md., April 24.-General Coxey returned to the commonweal army to-day and was received with cheers on the very spot where stood the house of old Barbara Fritchie. Mr. Coxey was well expedition. He said that the trunk line roads had not yet decided whether or not they would give reduced rates to Washington on May 1. There was to be a special meeting of the trunk line managers totelegraphed him. In commenting on the manifesto of the District commissioners, Mr. Coxey said that it was just what might be expected under the circumstances. There was no need of any preparatory proclamations by the District authorities as to the order they were going to preserve. And the whole thing was the same sort of bluster that had been made by Mayor his town, and then allowed the procession directly under the noses of thirty deputy sheriffs. While in New York Mr. Coxey said he had been offered use of Woodly Park, outside of Washington, as a camp ground for the army. This is the most beautiful of the suburban real estate divisions about Washington, with good roads, wood, grass, and close to Rock creek, and an abundant water supply. The offer was made by Mrs. H. P. Waggaman, one of the owners of the tract, whom Mr. Coxey had met at Tattersalls during the horse sales. The offer has not yet been accepted, but a conference between Browne and Coxey on the subject will be held to-morrow. It was decided at a late meeting between Coxey and Browne this evening to hold the commonweal in camp at the baseball park, where they are very well provided for, and move for Hyattsville on Thursday. The commonweal is growing, nearly three hundred men marching out of camp Paniel Boone this morning. They were joined by stragglers along the roads, and in Frederick they found another party of thirty-five men under John "Windy" White, the old trumpeter, discharged at Williamsport last week. White was taken back into the fold, and the recruits were accepted and enrolled. The party of thirty-three will be sent around by the old route of Ridgeville, Damascus and Laytonsville, which was to have been traveled by the main body in their march. To-night Browne and Coxev addressed a large meeting in Junior Hall, deferring to the wish of Mayor Fleming that they should not hold a meeting on the street, as he had relented concerning his determination not to allow the army to come into town at all. While camp will not be moved to-morrow, its name will be changed, as it is the custom every day. To-morrow it will be Camp Lafayette.

AT THE CAPITAL.

Two Agitators at the Coxey Headquarters-Treasury Precautions. WASHINGTON, April 24.—Washington headquarters of the Commonweal of Christ in Rechabite Hall were resplendent to-day with the sheen of a gorgeous silken banner sent by the supporters in Kansas City. It is fifteen feet long by seven feet wide, and the red and white stripes of the United States flag were lost in the center of an immense blue field, with a dazzling bearing the letters of the word "liberty." The two most conspicuous personages about the place were the two Whites-W. D., of Commune C, Chicago, and R. J., of Commune F. Both of them are very intelligent men. W. B. White served under an employe of the Westinghouse Electriclight Company and had three ribs and an arm broken in the fire at the cold-storage warehouse in the Chicago exposition grounds. R. J. White is proud of having been one of Mahone's men and bears the wounds of battle. Both will remain here to do missionary work until the army arrives. They denounce the "unknown" for collecting money under false pretenses, and assert that Coxey's men are orderly, law-abiding citizens, from whom Washington has nothing to fear. They believe that Glen Echo will be selected for the Washington camping place of the army, a spot on the edge of the city, where there was an unsuccessful attempt by real-estate men two years ago to establish a Chautauqua assembly, and which had been offered to the army by its proprietors.

An appeal for contributions of money and provisions from the public has been issued by the local committee, which includes among its members the wife of Representative John Davis, of Kansas; ex-Representative Wise, of Arizona, and Rev. Alexander Kent, the pastor of the unattached church here. One of the most prominent labor leaders of the city, M. F. Hobbs, whose name has been connected with Coxey's crusade, repudiates it. He says: "So far as I know, labor organizations intend to give no support to this movement. As citizens they are interested in seeing that Coxey's men are not deprived of their rights, but if the visitors violate the laws they will receive no support from organized

The treasury officials, while disclaiming any fears from the crowds incident to the coming of Coxey's army, have taken the precaution of adding fifty-five carbines and twenty revolvers to the treasury's supply of arms. The normal strength of the war force of the treasury is seventy men, divided into two reliefs. In addition to two or three dozen revolvers, there has always been thirty-five carbines in the racks in the office of the captain of the watch, sufficient to supply each watchman on duty. It has been thought best, however, to increase the supply, in view of the crowds of hangerson of Coxey's army that are expected to arrive in the city during the com-The captain of the Treasury Guards, a local military organization, composed entirely of clerks in the Treasury Department, to-day informed the captain of the watch force that in case of trouble at any hour, day or night, he could have every man in his command in the Treasury Building inside of forty-five minutes. stated that his men were well drilled in the use of arms, and hence could do much efficient work than civillans. was made at City Hall. When Olneyville was reached the commonwealers were taken to Textile Hall, where they rested until 6 o'clock, when supper was served. It was a repast such as had not been enjoyed since the army left Boston. There was corn beef, salmon and sardines, sausages, cheese, rice, white bread, crackers, coffee and all kinds of pie. After the supper General Fitzgerald acted as recruiting officer and received the application of near-ly forty men. It was finally decided to reject all applications, as well as the fifteen received at Pawtucket.

During the evening a mass meeting was held. Speeches were made by M. I. Swift, George H. Borman, John H. Stevens, Rev. H. N. Casson and Edward T. Lyner. The army was housed in Germania Hall, where it spent the night. The army expects to start on the tramp at 11 o'clock to-morrow Breakfast will be served at Germania Hall, after which the army will probably go to Scituate, eight miles. The next important place is Dayville, and then sixty miles of small towns to East Hartford. Every Providence policeman went on duty at 3 o'clock to-day, and will remain until the army leaves town in case of an emergency Has Jones Deserted?

BALTIMORE, April 24.-After two days' rest in Baltimore's suburbs Jones's Pennsylvania brigade of Coxey's army resumed its march to-day. A dozen recruits joined the column at this point, swelling the number to thirty. Provisions sufficient to last several days were donated yesterday. A Grand Army soldier presented each member with a flag. General Jones, the head of the brigade, has not returned from Philadelphia, and it is generally thought he has deserted.

The army met with such a freezing re ception at Elliott City to-night that it is likely to go to pieces before it reaches the main body. The men were not allowed to old Barbara Fritchie. Mr. Coxey was well got to quarreling among themselves, so pleased with the result of his New York expedition. He said that the trunk line attorney J. D. McGuire threatened them with the lockup. This made matters worse and a small riot was imminent, when the sheriff and his deputies ordered them to quit the town. They could get nothing to eat and were forced to leave. Secretary meeting of the trunk line managers to-day, he said, and their decision would be spending the money obtained in Baltimore for beer and getting too drunk to attend to business. Commissary Samuel Jackson was made leader in his place, but it is doubtful if he will be able to keep the crowd together.

More than one hundred tired looking men met in the Penn-The chief gate man, Lawrence, and his assistants waited until Coxey's followers had gone into the freight cars and then they locked the doors. A locomotive was at tached to the train and soon had the carloads of tramps moving towards Jersey City. A wagon load of police awaited them, but before reaching the city limits the tramps managed to break open the car doors and escaped. They scattered in all directions and not one was arrested.

A General and Two Soldiers. HARTFORD, Conn., April 24.-Gen. Geo. H. Sweetland, commander in chief of the Bristol delegation of Coxey's army, left Bristol at noon to-day for Hartford en route for Washington with two followers. Attacked by the Dread Malady While Sitting at His Desk-His Condition Critical.

WASHINGTON, April 24.-Frank Hatton, ex-Postmaster-general and at present one of the editors and proprietors of the Washington Post, was striken with paralysis this afternoon while at work at his desk. It was about 1 o'clock when Mr. Hatton received the first warning of the attack, and he immediately called down a tube which runs from his office to that occupied by Berlah Wilkins, his partner, asking him to come to him at once. Mr. Wilkins hastened to Mr. Hatton's room on the third floor. As he entered Mr. Hatton told him that he felt very strangely and that sunburst surmounted by several gilt stars | he feared a stroke of paralysis. A doctor was immediately called, but it was nearly half an hour before he arrived. In the meantime the sufferer had lost consciousness. The doctor said that a clot of blood had formed on the brain and that the case was a very serious one. An ambulance from the Emergency Hospital was called. Mr. Hatten was taken to his home of Senator Manderson in the war, has been | Hillyer place. At 3 o'clock he had regained consciousness, the physicians having been able to check the hemorrhage of the brain. At 9 o'clock to-night Dr. Sewers said Mr. Hatton was resting easily and without pain. LEBANON, Ind., April 24.-Edward 3 Workman shot his wife and himself in this city, about 8 o'clock this morning, and, though both are alive, their recovery is hardly possible. Workman is the eldest son of Rev. T. C. Workman, and married Miss Lizzie Tracy two years ago. They had two children, but lost them a few months ago. Mrs. Workman's conduct had made her husband jealous. Two weeks ago Mrs. Workman left her husband and took up her abode at the home of her brother-in-law, Isaac McClain. Workman went to Mc-Clain's house about 7 o'clock last night, and, on his knees, pleaded with his wife to return to him. With this money he purchased a revolver this morning and started for McClain's house Mrs. Workman, at this time, was coming up town, and Woraman concealed himself behind the Seventh-day Advent Church When she came up opposite he ran out and began firing. The first shot took effect in her shoulder. She screamed and started to run into a house. Just as she opened the gate the second shot struck her in the back of the head and she fell. She was taken in the house, and Workman turned the weapon on himself. The bullet entered his head above the left eye. He fell in the gutter and lay there for a few seconds, then raised himself and grabbed the revolver, which had dropped at his side, and fired another bullet in the back of his head. He then lay unconscious until removed to Dr. Wrennick's office. Drs. Scull and Ball extracted the bullet from the first wound Mrs. Workman received. It had entered the right shoulder blade, ranged down towards her arm, and was taken out near her elbow. The second shot, which entered the rear of her head, ranged downward and was not located. The woman was removed to her brother's. Her injuries are not necessarily fatal, and the attending physician says she may recover. After an examination, in which Dr. Wren-nick was unable to extract the bullets from his head, Workman was taken to jail. His condition is dangerous, and no one is allowed to see him. The occurrence is a sad blow to the parents of Workman. His father has been an ordained Methodist preacher, and resided here for the past twenty years. SHE FAINTED IN COURT.

Daughter of Murdered Lawyer Bailey Couldn't Stand the Trial Ordeal.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., April 24.-The preliminary trial to-day in which saloonist Frank Benadum, bartender Michael Gorman and William Watson are charged with the murder of lawyer Lemuel Bailey, at Benadum's saloon, Saturday evening, brought out a big crowd. The Police Court was too small to accommodate it, and the Circuit Court room, with a seating capacity of about one thousand, was used. In the crowd was a number of women, and during the evidence one of the murdered man's daughters fainted, and had to be carried from the room. The hearing revealed the fact that Watson will be released and Gorman and Benadum each will very likely be held. Gorman was the only one of the accused who took the stand. He stated that when Benadum returned from a drive on the evening of the trouble he was drunk, and, finding Bailey there, became angry. Banadum entered the wine room where Bailey was lying, and soon a scuffle was heard. Benadum called him to come and help earry Bailey to the back yard. This was done, and Batiey died soon after he was carried out. Gorman says Benadum had half of a baseball bat in his hand at the time. Gorman further said: "As Benadum entered the saloon he asked me if Bailey had settled his bar bill, and I told him h had not. Benadum then said: 'Well, I'll fix him now,' and went in the room.' As it now stands, each of the men ac cuses the other. There is no question of a murder. Watson is a carpenter from Sidney, O., and his good reputation at home save him. Attorney Mason, of Sidney, is acting as his counsel. Mrs. Bailey, wife of the murdered man, testified that Benadum told her that her husband had been killed in a fight, and afterward denied to her that any fight had occurred. Drs. Green, Mann, Jackson, Trent and Bowers all testified that the man was choked to death. Gorman is an iron worker, and came from Greencastle to Muncies He is known in Terre Haute also. The statement in an evening paper to the effect that an attempt was made last night to organize a lynching bee and take some of the accused out of jall at an early hour this morning is regarded as a huge joke.

A HEROIC BRAKEMAN. Stands on a Locomotive and Saves a Child's Life.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, Ind., April 24.-Thomas Collins, freight brakeman on the Wabash, performed a heroic act to-day, saving the life of a child in the yard here. The engine of Collins's train was backing in on a sidng, and a three-year-old son of George Pfeil ran on the track in front of the locomotive. Collins was riding on the break beam, and, seeing the peril of the child, held on with one hand and, reaching down with the other, lifted the youngster out of harm's way as the mother came screaming down to the track.

CREDITORS PLEASED. Judge Everett Sets Aside Mortgages on O'Brien's Wagon Works.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal, LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 24.-When the O'Brien Wagon Company, of this city, closed down several months ago, ostensibly because the workmen would not consent to a reduction of 10 per cent. in wages, they soon after put on record two mortgagesone in favor of Mortimer Levering and the other in favor of Mrs. Lucy A. Kaullfor an aggregate sum of $78,000. These mortgages covered all the property of the company. Later, when the liabilities of the firm were all in it was ascertained that their indebtedness amounted to over or about $140,000. Jacob F. Marks was appointed receiver. Mrs. Kaull is the mother f one of the men interested in the company and the mother-in-law of another member of the firm. The unpreferred creditors of the firm have been fighting these two mortgages vigorously. This morning Judge Everett rendered his decision in the case, and held that the company, at the time of making these mortgages, was insolvent, and that an insolvent corporation could not, under the statutes of Indiana. prefer any of its creditors. Those to whom claims were due had a right to share equalthrough the main streets to Olneyville of former members of the Harmonist So- two mortgages to preferred creditors, placly in the assets. MUNCIE, Ind., April 24.-The Indiana

Window Glass Manufacturers' Association held a meeting at the Commercial Club rooms in Muncie this afternoon for the purpose of mutual benefit. The general situation was discussed, and it was agreed that the prospects of the approaching death of the Wilson bill brightened the trade prospects. Most of the factories are in operation or soon will be. This was the first meeting since the reorganization of the association. Thomas F. Hart, an admirer of the Wilson bill and a big window glass manufacturer here, is not in it. Among those present were Messrs. E. E. Bower, meet the demands made on them in the way of sufficient room for school purposes to the City Council asking for the issuance of bonds to the amount of $30,000 to erect a new building. This has not yet been acted on owing to the general protest which arose over increased taxation, and the further fact that the city is now bonded to and beyond its limit. Last week the trustees took the bull by the horns and issued an order cutting off all children transferred from the country and suburban towns, hoping in this way to solve the problem. It was then that the fun commenced. On Satur-

One Killed and Two Badly Injured

Near Huntington.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., April 24.-The large boiler in Houser & Foulke's tile mill, eight miles east of here, exploded to-day, killing Arthur Anson, an employe, and seriously injuring David Houser and P.

William Foust. Mr. Houser is fatally hurt.

The boiler room was completely blown away, and fragments of the debris could be found 200 yards distant. Anson lived a few minutes after the accident, long enough to say good-bye to his wife. He was married about two months ago. The back part of his head was bruised and his side torn torn open. Houser's injuries consist of a broken leg and scalp wounds.

marked the anniversary of the mythical

"Three G's" Society of this city, which is composed of young women. Since their organization it has been a custom to celebrate their anniversary by entertaining the honorary members-women who have married out of the society, with their male friends. In pursuance of this custom, they celebrated their seventh anniversary last night at the Ross Opera Hall with a "cal-ico reception." In the course of the evening's entertainment each man was handed a bandbox containing a ladies' untrimmed hat and trimmings, and was given fifteen minutes in which to display his artistic skill in the milliner's art. They all acquitted themselves far in excess of the expectation of the ladies, and each felt quite proud of his efforts. The capital prize was awarded to Charles Castle, while

The Smallpox Was Chickenpox

FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 24.-It nov develops that the case of smallpox reported yesterday in the family of S. D. Bond is only chickenpox. The child is able to be up and around to-day, and has not the slightest symptoms of smallpox. The scare caused the greatest inconvenience to the boarders at the Hamilton House. Many of them, being women school teachers, were obliged to seek other quarters last night. The telegrams this morning have caused great uneasiness to absent Fort Wayne people, and will undoubtedly do the city considerable injury until it is learned there is not a sol-
